CHRISTINE BUISMAN ELM

This is the elm that was introduced from Holland by the U.S.D.A. a number of years ago and distributed by them to the trade in 1949, 1950 and 1951. When repeatedly tested by the U.S.D.A. it was found to be highly resistant to both phloem necrosis and Dutch elm disease. It is bound to become a valuable replacement for the American Elm. Hardy at the Morton Arboretum near Chicago.
